PSI Labassign User Guide

Welcome to the Mini Moodle EDAT selection page.

In this website, you will be able to select your laboratory group for Estructuras de Datos.

In the main page, you will find the main section, in which you will have a guide with the steps to follow in order to enroll in the labs.
You will see a lateral menu, in which you can switch to the main page (Home) and the login page (Login).

In the login page, you can log in with your username (your NIA) and your password (your DNI).

Once you are logged in, you will see in the lateral menu of the main page more options: Apply Pair, Convalidate, Apply Group, and Break Pair.
You can also log out the application clicking on the button "Log Out" in the main page.

You will find now more information about you in the main page, like whether you have already a validated pair or not.

If you click on Apply Pair, you will find the apply pair page, in which, if you click in the dropdown bar, you can select a partner among all the available options.
When you have chosen your partner, click on the button.

If you click on Convalidate, you will find the convalidation page. Here you can apply for convalidation if you fulfill the requirements explained in the steps in the main page. When you have selected, click on the button to apply the changes.

If you click on Apply Group, you will find the apply group page. Here you can select a laboratory group among the options in the dropdown bar. When you have selected your group, click on the button to apply changes.

If you want to break your pair (you need to have one), just click on Break Pair, it will show you the break pair page, and you will see another dropdown bar with the name of your pair. Choose it and click on the button.
You can apply then for another pair.

Thank you for using our website, enjoy your course!
